INTRODUCING PVD COATED CUTLERY

PVD (Physical Vapour Deposition), an eco-friendly vacuum coating process that is widely applied on various products such as jewellery, door hardware, car accessories and marine fittings.

PVD is resistant to chipping, fading, corrosion or tarnishing and most importantly, is food safe. Coating properties (such as hardness, structure, chemical and temperature resistance, and adhesion) can be precisely controlled.

Sola's PVD has a 2-year warranty on manufacturing defects, such as peeling or delaminating (excludes scratches). Knives are recommended to be washed separately from forks and spoons to avoid scratches. Also PVD cutlery needs to be completely dry before storing, to avoid lengthy periods of water residue mixed with chlorine or other detergents.

*Terms and conditions apply concerning minimum order values and lead times.
Product delivery is estimated 6–10 weeks from date of order.*
